

Dr. Prasad Suryakant Kulkarni, MD, FCP, FRCP (London)

Executive Director,
Serum Institute of India Pvt. Ltd. (SIPL),
Pune, INDIA

Qualification – MBBS, MD (Clinical Pharmacology) from B.J. Medical College, Pune. FCP (Fellow of the American College of Clinical Pharmacology), FRCP (Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians), London

He joined Serum Institute of India Ltd. (SIPL), Pune in Year 2000, and is now its Executive Director.

Serum Institute is the largest manufacturer of vaccines in the world.

Dr. Kulkarni has several years' experience in clinical research, medical advice and pharmacovigilance.

He has been involved in the successful clinical development of several vaccines and large molecules, many of which are used globally.

He has more than 85 publications in journals like the New England Journal of Medicine, Lancet, Lancet Infectious Diseases, etc.

He has delivered several lectures in many National and International Conferences, Workshops and Seminars.

Dr Kulkarni has been a Faculty to the annual Indian Vaccinology Course (INDVAC) at the Christian Medical College, Vellore since 2010.

He has been a Referee to many international medical journals. He has guided many students in clinical research.

He was recently involved in the clinical development of COVISHIELD and COVOVAX that played an important role during the COVID-19 pandemic.